

HOT JOB OF THE WEEK

Survey Technician

National Oceanic And Atmospheric Administration

NOAA is an agency that enriches life through science. NOAA's reach goes from the surface of the sun to the depths of the ocean floor as they work to keep citizens informed of the changing environment around them. From daily weather forecasts, severe storm warnings and climate monitoring to fisheries management, coastal restoration and supporting marine commerce, NOAA's products and services support economic vitality and affect more than one-third of America's gross domestic product.

USAjobs.gov control number: 1343078

In your position as a Survey Technician you will:

- Perform and assist the work in preparation for and at the completion of oceanographic and/or survey operations.
- Serve on a ship, launch, or in the field in oceanographic or survey operations; operate and monitors instruments; annotate records and record data.
- Perform oceanographic and/or survey observations, measurements and calculations.

Requirements:

- You must be a United States Citizen or National.
- Must have one year of experience at the Assistant Survey Technician level or equivalent, or 3 years of experience engaged in oceanographic or fishery research operations.
- Must have a 4-year college degree that included at least 10 credit hours in computer science, engineering or related classes.

Salary: $38,000 - $39,000 per year

Location: Vacancies Throughout U.S.

Application Deadline: March 18, 2009

Contact Information: Phone: 206-526-6050
Email: Curtis.Angell@noaa.gov

*For this announcement and others like it see www.makingthedifference.org.
For more information use key words from this announcement to search www.usajobs.gov. Also check out this site for information on other jobs in federal service.*

