Department of the Treasury
Internal Revenue Service

In your position as an Internal Revenue Agent you will:

- Serve in one of three divisions of the Internal Revenue Service:
 - In the Small Business/Self Employed Division (Examination), you will examine and audit individual, business and corporate tax returns to determine correct federal tax liabilities; conduct examinations relating to compliance with technical requirements imposed by the Internal Revenue Code; and interact with taxpayers, tax attorneys and certified public accountants.
 - In the Small Business/Self Employed Division (BSA), you will conduct compliance examinations on certain categories of financial institutions and non-financial trades or businesses in order to identify, detect and deter money laundering whether it is in furtherance of a criminal enterprise, terrorism, tax evasion or other unlawful activity while determining if financial institutions or non-financial trades or businesses properly register, maintain records, and file reports required by the anti-money laundering statutes and regulations.
 - In the Tax Exempt and Government Entities Division, you will apply your skills in conducting examinations of employee plans, exempt organizations and government entities; conduct examinations on pension plans to ensure compliance with the provisions of the Internal Revenue Code; interact with pension trustees, individual taxpayers, pension attorneys, certified public accountants, enrolled agents and other pension practitioners; and make determinations that tax-exempt entities meet the appropriate tax law requirements applicable to them.
